

What is Being active university. Many activities are organised by and for students. These activities are mostly organised by the various associations at the university..

At Inter-Actief we also organise plenty of activities. These range from weekly activities such as the lunch lectures and Tuesday afternoon drinks to bigger activities, such as the half-yearly LAN party and the Kick-IT camp you might remember.

Personal growth

Organising activities is not only fun, but you also improve many skills you would not encounter during your studies.

These experiences not only enrich your student years, but also prepare you for success in your future career, where leadership, teamwork, effective communication, and problem-solving are highly valued traits.

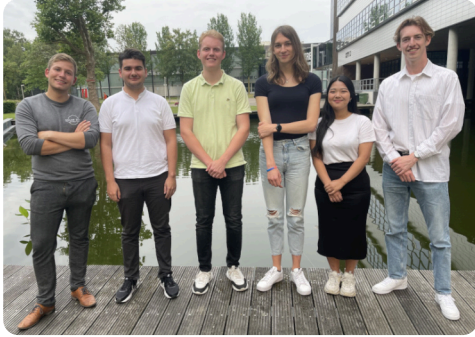

Tools

As an active member, you will have access to the Inter-Actief intranet, being able to utilise many tools that are custom-tailored to organise activities as fast as possible! Some examples are our wiki, filled with practical information, the poster design tool, and even our many sheets filled with automation.

Committee market

Every half-year, a committee market takes place. In this market, committees that are looking for members introduce themselves and show what they are about. This is a great way to look around to see what committees might be interesting for you! Every committee has a poster with some quick info, and there are members you can talk to if you have any questions or simply wish to hear them explain the committee. If you think a committee sounds interesting, you can sign up on the interest list, and our Internal Affairs will divide the signups amongst the committees. Of course, it is only an interest sheet, if you later decide not to join the committee that's okay!

Finally, of course, free lunch is provided.

Appreciation

Of course, at Inter-Actief we value our committee members and arrange a few fun bonuses for our members. Not only do we have our yearly Active Members Appreciation Dinner and Active Member Weekend, two fully organised by the board activities filled with socialising and activities, but each committee also gets a budget to go on both a committee outing of their choice, which is a great way to bond and get to know your fellow committee members, and buy some committee clothing. This works as a great memento for your activism years, and, of course, it just looks really cool to show up at an activity you organised yourself with your committee all dressed in the same clothing.

Roles

Within each committee, there are many roles to be assumed. Such as the Chairperson, Secretary and the treasurer. By adapting these roles, you obtain the chance to learn a new field, like handling money or managing relationships with companies and having contact with members. In a committee, each person assumes a certain role, where this hands-on experience not only benefits the committee's success but also equips you with transferable skills that can be applied throughout your academic and professional journey.
